English Course for English Language Learner Families

The Randolph Public Schools English Language Learner (ELL) Program, in conjunction with our Family Resource Center and the Greater Youth Resource Services, is offering adult English classes for families in the district whose first language is not English. The Greater Youth Resource Services is a non-profit organization that provides pathways to educational success for Randolph residents.

In our continued effort to support English Learner families, we hope to provide every opportunity for learning and growth. Our adult English classes provide support toward English proficiency, as well as information and methods to better support the academic needs of your school-aged child(ren).

To enroll in this free course, complete the information below. Class sizes are limited. Don't wait! Please contact the Randolph Public Schools Family Resource Center at 781-961-6247 with any questions.
